ATHENA 2022

INTERNATIONAL OLIVE OIL COMPETITION

AWARD-WINNING EXTRA VIRGIN OLIVE OILS TASTING

29 MAY 2022 • ZAPPEION HALL, ATHENS, GREECE

VINETUM

THE 2022 EDITION OF THE ATHENA INTERNATIONAL OLIVE OIL COMPETITION

THIS YEAR the Athena International Olive Oil Competition was held in Sitia, Crete, April 7 to 9. Participation reached 563 extra virgin olive oils, showing a small decrease of 2% compared to 2021, a year in which there was a particularly large increase, by about 25%. Continuing high participation of olive oils from abroad confirms the prestige and importance of this competition for Greece, which is now hosting one of the most important evaluation procedures of extra virgin olive oil —a product that is emblematic for Greece.

THE ATHENA competition is held every year in a different olive oil producing region of Greece; this year the location that was chosen was Sitia, in eastern Crete, where the olive tree has been cultivated since Minoan times and is today the most widespread agricultural crop. Throughout the Lasithi region there are almost 3 million olive trees, thousands of which are centuries-old. In this environment, whose ecosystem is defined by the olive tree, the 30 judges of ATHENA experienced the famous Cretan hospitality. As always, two thirds of the panel were judges from abroad and specifically from 11 countries: Australia, Brazil, USA, Spain, Israel, Italy, Croatia, Great Britain, Portugal, Tunisia and Chile.

GREECE PARTICIPATED in the competition with 287 olive oils (almost 51%), with the remaining 276 (over 49%) coming from 22 countries of the Southern and Northern Hemisphere, from all continents: Algeria, Argentina, Australia, Brazil, France, USA, Spain, Israel, Italy, China, Croatia, Cyprus, Lebanon, Libya, Morocco, South Africa, Portugal, Saudi Arabia, Slovenia, Turkey, Tunisia and Chile. Currently 58 countries around the world produce olive oil, however 98% of world production comes from the Mediterranean basin and 80% from EU countries.

UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP of José Maria Penco, the international jury of ATHENA awarded 366 medals, 176 of which to Greek olive oils as follows: 32 Double Gold (7 Greek), 135 Gold (39 Greek), 126 Silver (81 Greek) and 73 Bronze (49 Greek). The highest rating and the title "Best of Show" was won by the Italian olive oil "Coratina Maselli", produced by Azienda Agricola Maselli in the Bari region of Puglia. The continuous improvement of the quality of Greek olive oils is obvious, since the medals they secured this year in total reached 61.3% of their participations, far exceeding last year's 54.2%.

THE BEST GREEK olive oil for this year was Terra Creta Kolymvari, by Terra Creta. The same olive oil was also the best from Koroneiki, among all the samples from this variety, the participation rate of which shows a continuous increase. This year it reached 207 samples (from 151 last year). Of these, 2 were from Brazil, 1 from the USA, 3 from Israel, 1 from China, 3 from Cyprus and 1 from Morocco. Thus, the participations of olive oils from Koroneiki and from countries other than Greece were expanded, ensuring, in fact, distinctions.

THERE IS ALSO a tendency among growers towards high-quality aromatized olive oils, an area where Greek olive oils seem to be doing particularly well. This year two of them obtained a Double Gold Medal, with "Laconiko Lime" of the company with the same name, being yet again top aromatic olive oil of the competition. Of the 45 flavored olive oils that participated in this year's ATHENA, 34 were awarded a prize. The Greek entries were 36 in this category, of which 28 were distinguished.

ATHENA IOOC 2022 was a co-partnership of the Municipality of Sitia, the Sitia Development Agency and the Lasithi Chamber of Commerce, together with organizing company Vinetum, under the auspices of the Ministry of Maritime Affairs and Insular Policy and the Ministry of Rural Development and Food.
